

get it write.
writing, editing, book editing

having said that ...
professional speaking

up from down under Aussie music for Canadian folk

po box 42067 rpo ferry road
winnipeg mb canada r3j 3x7

words@jennygates.com
www.jennygates.com

ph +1-204-228-9959
fax +1-204-957-5754

Jenny Gates is a professional speaker, writer, editor and musician. Originally from Sydney, Australia, she is president of having said that ... and get it write., and half of the Aussie duo up from down under. Always brimming with new ideas and open to new opportunities, Jenny is known as “the eternal optimist” and recognized by her peers, colleagues, clients and friends as creative, innovative and enthusiastic. A Distinguished Toastmaster (DTM) and member of the Canadian Association of Professional Speakers (CAPS), Jenny is entertaining and engaging, has a relaxed and casual speaking style, and incorporates personal stories that will move and motivate you to see your work and your life in a new light.

Wherever you are today, imagine where you will be tomorrow ...

having said that ... was officially launched in 2003, although Jenny has been speaking professionally for more than 10 years. Jenny educates and entertains her audiences with humour, stories and music. Her keynote speeches, business seminars and motivational presentations explore a variety of topics and offer practical tips and tools.

Knock! Knock! Knock! – Open the door to life’s opportunities and embrace personal and professional challenges [Keynote]

The Eternal Optimist – A guide to positive thinking, no matter what happens [Keynote]

Think Vegetables! And squash the fear of public speaking – Become better communicators in your personal and professional lives

Who, Me? Yes, You! – Discover the little things that make the big difference

So Much To Do, So Little Time – A practical guide to personal and professional maintenance

Write Right, Alright? – Simple tools that will enhance the effectiveness of your business writing

Procrastination: The Problem with Time Management – Practical solutions to help you stop procrastinating and better manage your time

From Pen to Podium – Everything you need to know about making a great presentation

You Asked For It! – Jenny will design a keynote speech and motivational presentation for your next convention, conference or meeting